Last day of London Routemaster: "Jump On, Jump Off!"

This episode-musical-theatre, containing visual arts, live music and digital soundscapes, portrays the quirky take by two foreign musicians on this crazy world we live in.

Heading for London, looking for a place to stay, Georg & Thomas heard of a house in carysfort road where "the better you play, the less you pay."

All the songs they perform are composed or arranged during their stays in carysfort road and are inspired by the places they saw and the people they met. These songs are collectively known as 'carysfort stories'.
